The students clearly understood the beginnings of Indian writings in English, they were able to trace the events that initiated the introduction of English Language and Literature in India. In addition, the course also introduced passionate learners to many contemporary Indian English poets, writers, and dramatists and familiarised them with the quintessential ethos of Indianness comprising the philosophical, aesthetic, and cultural legacy of Indian authors, offering brief discussions on some of their works garnished with insights in connection with the era the works were created. They were able to interpret, analyse and appreciate text on the different phases of the Indian writings in English. The outcome of the course is as follows. The students:

- Understood the significance of introducing English in colonial India.
- Evaluated the Pre and Post-Independent Indian English Poetry.
- Gained a deeper understanding of fiction writers of Pre Independence India.
- Grasped stages of development of fiction and prose writing in English in India.
- Applied critical thinking skills to analyse the structure, scope, and relevance of the beginning of Indian Writings in English.
